PWalmart's actions toward establishing a bank would be a serious threat to community banks, a reenactment of the grocery stores, hardware stores, etc., that disappear when Walmart enters a community. Please write your message here. Take note of the style tips and talking points in the sidebar.

The largest corporation in the world has no need to concentrate further commercial and financial power.

Its PR began in lies -- MADE IN AMERICA -- and so it continues. No way can it be the world's largest corporate power AND for the "little people" it hires and attracts through tricky advertising.

Walmart has harmed lives and communities while getting richer and richer.

Do not support its expansion into banking.

For peace and justice and for the working poor.
